9. Breeder recommends Buyer has Puppy examined by a veterinarian of Buyer's choice within 72 hours of the date appearing in Clause 4. If Puppy is diagnosed by the veterinarian to be in ill health, the cause of which is attributed to the Breeder, the Buyer is upon production to the Breeder of a written diagnosis of the said Veterinarian, at liberty to return Puppy to the Breeder in exchange for a full refund of Purchase price in Clause 3.
10. Breeder shall not be held responsible for any injury to Puppy after collection by or delivery to the Buyer.
11. Breeder shall not be held responsible for any contagious diseases diagnosed after 3 days from the date appearing in Clause 4.
12. Should Puppy, from date in Clause 4 through to the age of two (2) years, be diagnosed with any life inhibiting genetic defects as detailed in Clause 5, the following guarantee and associated conditions will apply.
13. Examination and diagnosis to be provided by two independent veterinarians, one (1) to be chosen by the Buyer and one (1) chosen by the Breeder.
14. If, after considering the diagnosis of the chosen veterinarians, the Buyer and Breeder agree that puppy is unsuitable as a pet, breeder will upon provision of medical reports provide buyer with the following options. NOTE all veterinary costs and testing expenses are the Buyer's sole responsibility.
 - a. If Puppy is diagnosed with a genetic defect as listed in Clause 5, which can be corrected with veterinary treatments, the Breeder will reimburse Buyer for the cost of those treatments within 14 days of receipt by the Breeder of evidence of full payment of those veterinary costs (provided that in no case will the Breeder be liable to reimburse any amount exceeding the purchase price as shown in Clause 3).
 - b. If Puppy is found to have a life inhibiting genetic condition, as listed in Clause 5, that will seriously affect its quality / or length of life (or both), Breeder will provide a full refund of the purchase price noted in Clause 3.
15. Breeder shall seek veterinary, animal behaviourist or dog trainer's advice and recommendations before Puppy is euthanized due to its inability to lead a normal life.
16. Breeder is not, and shall not be held, responsible for the development of faults, diseases, disorders, accidents and other general health issues which are the result of Buyer's negligence, environmental factors or both. Furthermore, the death, injury or loss of Puppy due to theft, carelessness, recklessness, abuse, neglect, heat stroke or accident will not entitle the Buyer to any compensation from the Breeder.
17. The Buyer understands that the Australian Labradoodle is an emerging breed and that it is therefore impossible to give a 100% guarantee that the puppy will not have a shedding coat. To the best of the Breeder's ability Puppy has been selected as a low to non-shedding puppy. The Buyer also understands that normal grooming will always result in removal of hair from the coat and is not considered shedding.
18. In the event the Buyer can no longer keep Puppy for any reason, the Buyer agrees to give the Breeder the first opportunity to take Puppy back. Buyer also agrees not to sell Puppy to any retail company or establishment.
19. Buyer understands the Australian Labradoodle is an intelligent breed that can be slow to mature by nature and that Puppy will require early socialization and training. Breeder recommends Buyer and Puppy attend Puppy School and further obedience classes to provide sufficient socialisation opportunities and training.
20. Buyer acknowledges that there are many factors that can influence the growth, development and health of a puppy, such as diet, exercise, weight and environmental conditions and Buyer assumes the responsibility to continue with the appropriate vaccinations, worming, and health care as outlined in the schedule supplied by breeder. Buyer agrees to feed the puppy a high-quality diet and maintain Puppy at a healthy weight throughout its growth period and to prevent excessive exercise or activities that will put strain on growing limbs.

21. Buyer acknowledges that any breach of the obligations in Clause 20 will be material breach that will render this agreement null and void.
